

A 3D perspective drawing of a cylindrical object, possibly a pipe or a container. The object is shown from an angle, revealing its circular end face and its curved surface. On the side of the cylinder, there is a small rectangular notch or opening. The drawing is simple, using black outlines on a white background.